with the main theme

FORENSIC AND GENDER ASPECTS OF ADDICTIVE DISEASES

(Kotor - Hotel „Cattaro“, 15 – 17 June 2018)

The European Center for Peace and Development UN University for Peace organizes this School with aim to direct the focus to forensic and gender characteristics of the abuse of psychoactive substances and addictions, as well as to bring together experts from various fields – physicians, social workers, special pedagogues, psychologists, lawyers, and other professionals, which will enable a more extensive exchange of experience as well as provide the latest knowledge, practical and scientific achievements in the area of prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of substance abuse. Within the School, along with its general plenary part, a specialized Workshop shall be organized on the topic: Criminal Legislation and Addictology.

Director of the School is Prof. Dr. Slavica Đukić Dejanović, Minister in the Government of the Republic of Serbia, and ECPD UN University for Peace professor.

Addictology and the abuse of psychoactive substances present one of the biggest problems on the global level, concerning the prevention, treatment itself and successful rehabilitation. Apart of being one of the most expensive, psychoactive substances addiction is, primarily, a complex brain illness with significant behavioral characteristics. Differences in sexes, related to the biological aspect and gender differences based on already defined cultural male/female roles, additionally implicate complex problems connected with psychoactive substances. Contemporary researches treating addictology are directed on the development of gender-based, specific programs of treatment, having in mind unique needs of women abusing PAS or already addicted to them. The other aspect of this problem is a forensic one. The prominence of criminogenic behavior related to drugs imposes important questions, concerning the role of legislation and the meaning of the punishment, or the level of the penalization of a certain behavior.

Program

Program of the School includes following main topics:

- (I) aims of the sustainable development and problems of addictive diseases

- (IV) Gender aspects – drugs and violence: trauma as an answer to the diversity
- (V) Crime, Punishment and the right to the Treatment
- (VI) Forensic importance of addiction – Workshop
